

A photograph of a skate plaza located under a large concrete bridge. The bridge has multiple levels and thick support pillars. The plaza is paved with concrete and features several low concrete ledges and ramps for skating. A few people are visible: one person on the left with a skateboard, another person in the center near a ledge, and a group of people on the right. The background shows some trees and city buildings under a clear sky. The text 'The PLAZA' is overlaid in the center in a large, white, sans-serif font, with 'The' in a smaller size above 'PLAZA'.
